Integrated Unit:

Kindergarten students will be exploring and describing familiar places and why some places are special to different people. Our particular focus will be on our Farrer community. We will be undertaking community walks to identify special places. Stay tuned for a special Kindy project where we will be creating some artwork to be displayed in a special Farrer space!

Science

This term we will be looking at how daily and seasonal changes in our environment affect everyday life. We will link this to include Indigenous perspectives and our inquiry unit.

Japanese:

“HARAPEKO AOMUSHI”. This term, Kinder students will experience more Japanese vocabulary including food, days of the week and some describing words using “The Hungry Caterpillar”. They will begin reading and writing in Japanese, including some kanji and copying some words in hiragana.

English Reading, writing, listening, speaking and viewing

The English curriculum will continue to expose the children to a wide range of experiences. Students will engage in regular independent, shared, modelled and guided reading. We will continue to focus on letter recognition, sounds, sentence construction, reading and exploring a range of texts.

Students will continue to explore writing through writing recounts, joining interactive writing sessions with the teacher and writing tasks connected to our inquiry unit. We will be focusing thinking about sounds in words, adding capital letters and full stops and making sure our writing makes sense. Most importantly we focus on doing our best and challenging ourselves.

Reading and writing high frequency words, will continue through word work activities and can also be practised at home. We will be introducing the idea of being a ‘one word expert’ each week, so ask your child what word they are an expert at that week.
